FUNDATION AWARDS FOR YOUNG COMPOSERS

Tse, winner of the first prize in the SOCAN Foundation Awards for Young Composers, will join us on the rise. He joins us to perform the fiery and dreamy Schumann Piano Concerto. We continue this extraordinary project with a musical encounter with Beethoven's Symphony No. 7. Our concerts in Exhibition Hall have become an evening we look forward to each year. With its beautiful scenery and acoustics to match, there is no place like it to enjoy live, classical music. We begin the season fill the air capturing the magic of the holidays. Special guests PHILADANCO! and the Kennett Symphony Children's Chorus join the Symphony in a concert sure to delight and surprise audiences of all ages.

Saturday, October 14, 2017
7:30pm • Unionville High School
Reveries & Passions

Berioz – Symphonie Fantastique
Beethoven – Symphony No. 7

Saturday, December 2, 2017
7:30pm • Unionville High School
Pops Goes the Holidays with special guest PHILADANCO!

Arr. Wendel – Christmas A La Valse
Arr. Ricketts – Hank! The Herald Angels Sing
Vaughan Williams – Fantasia on Greensleeves
Bach – Suite En Bleu
Arr. Higgins – Christmas on Broadway
Arr. Goldstein – God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen
Chilcott – The Time of Snow
Stephenson – O Christmas Tree
Arr. Finnegan – Sing a Long

It’s our way of wishing you and yours a happy holiday! The glorious sounds of the season fill the air capturing the magic of the holidays. Special guests PHILADANCO! and the Kennett Symphony Children’s Chorus join the Symphony in a concert sure to delight and surprise audiences of all ages.

Sunday, March 25, 2018
2:00pm • Rustin High School
Family Concert Potions That Create Emotions

Williams – Harry’s Wonderous World
Mahler – Symphony No. 1 – Movement 3
Mozart – Overture to the Marriage of Figaro
Copland – Fanfare for the Common Man
Tchaikovsky – Romeo & Juliet
Overture-Fantasy
De Falla – Final Dance from the Three Cornered Hat

Music is a language of emotion. But how does music affect our emotions? Join us in our Musical Laboratory as your very own Kennett Symphony, with the help of our Mad Scientist, shows us how composers use different musical sounds to create and express emotions. Your children even get to try out the different instruments of the orchestra. Ignite your child’s imagination and love of music.

Saturday, April 15, 2018
7:30pm • Longwood Gardens
Exhibition Hall
Romance & Revelry

Mendelssohn – Overture to the Marriage of Figaro
Dvorak – Romance
Saint-Saëns – Introduction & Rondo Capriccioso
Eliezer Gutman – violin
Bach – Symphony No. 7

Our concerts in Exhibition Hall have become an evening we look forward to each year. With its beautiful scenery and acoustics to match, there is no place like it to enjoy live, classical music. We begin the program with an overture by Arriaga; a recitative and recitative from Don Giovanni by Mozart. We next hear live. With recent performances with the orchestras of Houston, Baltimore and Indianapolis, Andrew Staupe is a pianist on the rise. He joins us to perform the fiery and dreamy Schumann Piano Concerto. We begin our concert with Three Musings, a set of three different sonic portraits by Roydon Tse, winner of the first prize in the SOCAN Foundation Awards for Young composers.